Brief Summary of February General Meeting Minutes

Announcements: Mentioned was the rezoning for the auto shop on Ahwanee, possibly from industrial to 82 units residential, west of Borregas. Opinions should be called into City Hall. Contact George Schroeder, Associate Planner, at (408) 730-7443.

City Report (John Cordes): On January 31st, the City held a study session on the LUTE (Land Use and Transportation Element of the general plan). They will be reviewing and approving the LUTE on March 7th. The Lute is the master plan for housing and land use for the next 20 years so it is one of the most important meetings. There are four alternatives. The staff recommended one would allow up to 40,000 more jobs and 15,000 more homes in the next 20 years by changing the zoning in many locations like was done for Peery Park.

Guest Speaker: Dustyn Bindel, Community Services Coordinator at the Columbia Neighborhood Center spoke. The many programs available at the Center are described in 'The CNC Connection,' a free newsletter available at CNC. This is published in English and Spanish every quarter. Also, articles of interest to the neighborhood can be submitted for publication. Other upcoming events are 2017 Winter Break Camps for Grades 1-8. Registration is at the CNC Tuesday nights, 6 to 8 p.m. until all spaces are filled. Free winter reading events are offered Wednesdays, 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. These are also bilingual. Thursday, 2/16, 'Read with a Furry Friend,' is also free, but requires registration. Call (408) 730-7800. New exciting events are always on the horizon. Recent programs include 'Pathways to College,' a child care faire, and a community baby shower. A Community Advisement Program for the Columbia Neighborhood Center is being formed. Attendees will have the opportunity to both identify and evaluate the needs of the community. An application form can be downloaded from the City of Sunnyvale website (<http://tinyurl.com/CNCAdvisoryForm>). This is a chance to have an impact on our neighborhood.

Social Event: Our March Dinner Night Out will be on St. Patrick's Day, Friday, March 17th. The venue is yet to be decided.

TV Reception in SNAIL

Since I wrote in January our TV Reception Committee has spoken at the Sunnyvale Neighborhood Association Quarterly meeting and a council meeting, spoken to the Sunnyvale Planning Dept. and to the Sunnyvale Sun, and SNAILs have written letters to Council. Mayor Hendricks and Councilmember Griffith make their personal phone numbers available on the City web site, whereas Councilmembers Larsson, Klein, Smith, Melton, and Goldman were only accessible via council@sunnyvale.ca.gov.

Mayor Hendricks was the only councilmember to respond to my outreach. We spoke on the phone twice – I know he listened to my suggestions intently because he asked some good questions. It was a productive conversation. (Note: Mayor Hendricks prefers that residents actually call him directly than to have them speak for 3 minutes during the General Comments part of Council meetings.)

At the time of this writing, City Council has not considered TV Reception an issue which should be studied in 2017.

Letters to the Editor

Commercial Burglary

Hello Denise,

I was reading the SNAIL newsletter and noticed that there had been a home robbery on Duane. I thought I should also inform neighbors; I have a hair salon on Murphy that was, unfortunately, also burglarized on Dec. 17th during the late, early morning hours. Many items were stolen. We all must be very diligent in keeping eyes and ears open and protect our property. Thank you for your time.

Best,
Carole Szilasi

What is SNAIL Dinner Night Out?

Once a month a resident can choose a date and time (weeknights at 7:00 p.m. or anytime on weekends) to invite neighbors and friends in our SNAIL community to a local restaurant of their choosing. This is to discuss news of the month, any announcements and to get to know others in the neighborhood. Mutual hobbies, sports, kids, cars and good food are always pleasant.

My role is to find the host and/or hostess each month and put it in our SNAIL Event Calendar in the monthly newsletter. I will take reservations for you if you cannot take them.

Happy to meet you! Call with a date and restaurant of choice.
-Bonnie Lloyd, SNAIL Social Secretary (408) 747-1947 (no email)
